LOST GIRL AT STATION

She Attracts Attention of President's Party.

UNABLE TO SPEAK ENGLISH

Pretty Immigrant Wanders Aimlessly About Great Train Shed and Bursts Into Tears—Wallings Attract Crowd and Matron Sends Her to Lexington, Ky.

Wandering aimlessly about the great train shed of the Union Station for two hours, and unable to speak a word of English, a pretty immigrant girl attracted the attention of President Taft's party on their arrival from Pennsylvania last night.

As the Presidential party was passing through the train shed, the girl was surrounded by several porters and travelers. The President stopped a moment and then proceeded to the street.

The girl was later sent to Lexington, Ky., to where she had a ticket. According to the stories of trainmen at the station, she arrived in Washington on a South-bound train, shortly after 6 o'clock last evening.

Burst Into Tears.

An hour after the Southern train departed, the girl was noticed walking about the train shed, apparently bewildered. No special attention was paid to her until about 9 o'clock, when she threw herself upon a settee and burst into tears. Her wallings attracted the attention of a porter, who summoned a matron.

Every effort to comfort the girl proved useless. She was on the verge of hysterics, apparently, when a tonic was administered, and the girl became quiet. Asked where she was going, the unfortunate traveler looked vacantly at her comforters and shook her head.

When one of the porters attempted to find out if she had a ticket or any other means of identification, the girl again became tearful. After much persuasion, carried on with difficulty because of her ignorance of English, the girl gave up her ticket to a matron. One coupon had been detached, and it is thought she came here from Philadelphia.

President Sees Girl.

The group was busily engaged in extending comforting words to the girl when the President's train came in. The President passed within a few yards of the little gathering and paused a moment to look curiously at the girl. He went out, however, without speaking.

The girl is described by trainmen as very pretty. She wore a short skirt and had a turban over her head. A small cup, bearing the letter "K," was all the luggage she carried. On her grip was a tag from the Philadelphia immigration authorities, showing her destination to be Lexington, Ky.

It is thought the girl alighted from the train, believing that she had arrived at her destination.

The newest separate waist is the "Margar" blouse. Taffeta, dotted foulard, linen, and cotton goods are all used.

TO TALK ON TRUANCY.

Special Feature for Friendship House Quarterly Tuesday Night.

The special feature of the meeting of the Friendship House Association on Tuesday evening, June 21, will be an address by Mrs. Edna K. Bushue on Truancy. All educational and social workers are interested in the causes and effects of this form of juvenile delinquency, and many parents have struggled with the problem involved. Mrs. Bushue, a truancy officer of this city, is well qualified to present this subject in an interesting and enlightening manner. The address is to be followed by an open discussion. These quarterly meetings, which are held at 324 Virginia avenue southeast, are open to the public, and all interested in this topic are cordially invited to attend.

TO PROBE FLORIDA MISHAP.

Admiral Leutze Ordered to Report on Battle Ship's Damage.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Winthrop last night ordered Rear Admiral E. H. C. Leutze, U. S. N., retired, commander of the New York Navy Yard, to make an immediate report to the Navy Department on the damage to the new battle ship Florida. Admiral Leutze was also directed to inform the Department what assistance would be necessary to float her. It is probable that a court of inquiry will be convened to investigate the accident.

Secretary Winthrop received a preliminary report from Rear Admiral Leutze last night. The dispatch said that the Florida broke loose from her dock at the navy yard during the squall Friday afternoon. Her superstructure was damaged, and several armor plates were lost overboard. The battle ship, Admiral Leutze's dispatch continued, was apparently grounded in the Wallabout Channel.

It is probable that one of the floating cranes now at the Boston Navy Yard will be sent to New York to recover the armor plates which fell overboard.

FATHER SHANDELLE ILL.

Attack Comes Suddenly in Brantano's Book Store.

The Rev. Henry J. Shandelle, the aged librarian at the Georgetown University library, was taken suddenly ill yesterday while in Brantano's book store, and was taken to the Emergency Hospital in an ambulance.

It was said by the physicians there that the father was resting easily and would be able to go to his home within a few days. He has held his post at the university for more than thirty years, and is now in somewhat feeble health.

Boy Taken Home.

Commonwealth Attorney J. A. C. Keith, of Virginia, left last night for Warrenton with Robert Goff, a seventeen-year-old boy living at Bealeton, and wanted in Fauquier County on a charge of attempted assault. Attorney Keith was on his way to Washington when he recognized the lad on the train, and turned him over to the local authorities for the night.

WEEK IN MUSIC.

Mrs. Emmelle Douglas-Maron, pianiste, will sail for Liverpool on July 2 to visit friends in London and Paris on her way to Berlin, where she will spend the summer, reopening her piano studio in Washington October 1. Mrs. Douglas-Maron will be a soloist at the concert to be given on Tuesday evening at the residence of Dr. Dudley Morgan, Chevy Chase, for the benefit of the new Catholic church, Chevy Chase, D. C.

The younger pupils of Mrs. Douglas-Maron gave a class recital yesterday at the residence of Judge De Lacy, Chevy Chase. Those taking part were Anna and William De Lacy, Vita Ord, Alice Clayton, Jean and Helen Tucker, Dudley Morgan, Lee Towers, Helen Lloyd, and William Rosenbusch.

Miss Vere Cory, one of Washington's popular young pianists, gave her pupils a most enjoyable afternoon, last Thursday, at her home studio, 1343 Corcoran street. After a recital in which all made a fine showing of their season's work, refreshments were served. Miss Cory leaves July 1 for her Western home on a two months' vacation.

Miss Mabel Catherine Linton gave a creditable and interesting pupils' piano recital June 6 in her home at Eckington. The programme elicited much praise and enthusiasm from the guests.

Miss Lillian May Lewis will sing at both morning and evening services at the Memorial Church to-day. In the morning she will sing "The Ninety and Nine," by Campion, and in the evening, "Just as I Am," by Del Rio.

Mrs. D. S. Lord and Miss Stella Raymond will also have solos.

Mrs. Charlotte G. Lippitt's pupils gave an informal programme Tuesday evening at her studio, after which a social hour and dancing were enjoyed. The programme, which comprised numbers by Beethoven, Dudley Buck, Otto Cantor, Black, Kate Vannah, Oley Speaks, Del Rio, Sprouss, and others, was very creditably rendered by Misses Comer, Craig, Ray, Rives, Shuman, Weibel, Mrs. Cockle, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Krumke, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Tucker, and Messrs. Comer, Guilford, and Sampson. Mrs. Jackson assisted Mrs. Lippitt at the piano.

Percy S. Foster has gone to Cincinnati to attend the twenty-fifth convention, or silver anniversary meeting, of the Christian Endeavorers of the State of Ohio. He will conduct the chorus of 100 voices for the convention, which convenes to-morrow and lasts until June 24. Mr. Foster had much success with the 50 chorists at the recent World's International Sunday School Convention here that he had offered on the strength of it to go to London for meetings in the same capacity.

He has also had offers for the State conventions of Texas and Maine, but his business affairs interfere with his accepting them. He is now on the eve of a change in his business arrangements, and will retire from the management of the Sanders & Stayman store here, with which he has been connected for fifteen years.

The choir of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church sang a number of compositions of the late Dr. J. W. Bischoff last Sunday evening, including the anthems, "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "O Lamb of God." The excellent choir of this church is composed of Mrs. Nellie Wilson Ship-Cole soprano; Miss Whitaker, contralto; Joseph Mathieu, tenor, and John H. Nolan, basso. John Porter Lawrence is organist and director.

Mrs. Henry Hunt McKee has accepted the position of choir director at Ingram Memorial Church. She has not, however, given up her position as organist and director at St. Michael and All Angels', but will simply conduct the rehearsals at Ingram Memorial for the present.

Mrs. A. Alexander Thomas will sing at both the morning and evening services at St. Michael and All Angels' Church to-day.

Miss Helen Gladmon's pupils gave their annual recital Monday evening at the George Washington University, before a large and enthusiastic audience. Miss Mary Belle Finney, contralto, assisted.

The twenty-fifth annual complimentary recital of the pupils of Prof. and Mrs. H. Clay Murray will take place in Naval Lodge Hall, Fourth street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast, from June 20 to 24, inclusive, at 7:45 p. m.

A large audience was present at the Washington Club Saturday evening, June 11, when Miss Mary Tipton Talbot presented her pupils in a piano recital.

A musicale for the benefit of the new Catholic church in Chevy Chase will be given Tuesday evening at the summer home of Dr. James Dudley Morgan, opposite the Chevy Chase Club. Mrs. Oldberg is assisting in arranging the programme, and will play some of the accompaniments. The following is the programme:

Prelude (Bachmann), "Staccato Caprice" (Vogel), Mrs. Douglas-Maron; "Carmos" (Wilson), Miss Margarette Ashbridge; "The Evening Star" (Wagner), Theodore Howard; violin solo, Charles Pringle; "L'Esclave" (Lalo), Far Across the Desert Sands (Woodford Finney), from "Love in Duranena," Miss Gertrude Carroll; value in A flat (Chopin), fragments in A flat (Schubert), Miss Sarah Mamon; "The Duet" (Chabrier), Irish Love Song (Leng), Miss Wurdeman; violin solo, Charles Pringle; "La Servante" (Tosti), Mrs. Annie Grant Padgett; "I Live and Love Thee" (Campana), Mr. Howard and Miss Ashbridge; accompaniment, Mrs. Oldberg and Mrs. Wells.

Dr. and Mrs. Lovette, of Bolton, Tex., are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Whitford, in Mount Pleasant, en route to Europe. Mrs. Lovette was one of the prominent singers of Washington, and as Miss Eva Whitford was one of the active forces in musical life here. She was married to Dr. Lovette in Bolton last winter at the college where she went to join the music faculty, of which he is the head.

Mrs. Oldberg has cards out for a morning musicale in her studio, in the Belasco Theater, on Friday, at 10 o'clock. Miss Carroll and Miss Wurdeman will sing.

Josef Kaspar has gone to his country place at Blument, Va., for the summer.

Paul Bleyden, the tenor, who has been making such a splendid record with the Alhambra Opera Company here this season, is going to settle in Washington when the opera season is over. He is not singing this or next week, but will sing again June 28 for the closing week of the season. Mr. Bleyden will go to Blument to spend the remainder of the season with Josef Kaspar at his country place, but will visit the city one or two days each week throughout the summer. He has had a brilliant career for a young singer. He is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Vienna, which has turned out more stars than any other institution. He has also had successful appearances in grand opera in Europe and America, having appeared with the Royal Opera of Berlin, and in Cologne, Bern, Bremen, Essen, and Darmstadt. Henry W. Savage brought him to this country for his grand opera company.

Mrs. Horness and Miss Georgia E. Miller presented several gifted vocal and piano pupils last evening in Miss Miller's studio, in H street. Miss Ada Arundell quite carried off the honors of the evening with her beautiful, rich mezzo-contralto voice, and charming personality. Miss Helen Coolidge, daughter of the former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, was the youngest of the students who appeared. She played with much intelligence and style. Miss Katharine M. Brooks, who played an interesting group of difficult numbers, displayed a charming touch and artistic temperament. There were no encores, but Miss Arundell sang several of her songs over again after the supper, and Miss Brooks played several of her numbers over.

The programme included: Scherzo (Schubert); Scotch poem, "To a Water Lily," Shadow Dance, from an Indian Lodge (MacDowell); Miss Coolidge; Nachtrunde and Novelette (Schumann); Miss Taylor; "Memento Musical" and Minuetto (Schubert); two preludes, two mazurkas, and nocturne (Chopin); Miss Rungman; songs, "The Rose" (Garrett Smith), "Winds in the Trees" (Thomas), and "My Love" (Sullivan); Miss Ada Arundell; Prelude No. 23 (Chopin); "Bird as Prophet" (Schumann); "Au Revoir" (Schubert); "O Queen, Fear" (Brahms); "L'Alouette" (Glinka) (Balkin); Miss Brooks.

Mrs. Melville, a popular member of the Columbia Players, has taken an apartment in the Metrolux, where her daughter will spend the summer with her. Miss Melville is an accomplished musician of whom the family is very proud.

Mr. Edwin Hughes, the well-known pianist of this city, who has been studying in Vienna for several years with Leschetizky, will return to Washington in the autumn to visit his parents for a short time before going to Michigan. He has been engaged as head of the piano department of the Ganapoli School of Musical Art in Detroit.

Miss Edna James Sheehy, former treasurer of the Rubinstein Club, is in Boston, where she went to attend the commencement of the New England Conservatory of Music, and to be present at her class reunion. Miss Sheehy will then visit some of her classmates in Massachusetts.

Child Conference.

The second annual meeting of the Child Conference for Research and Welfare will be held at Clark University, Worcester, Mass., June 23 to July 3. The purpose of the organization is to secure co-operation between institutions and establishments engaged in the scientific study of childhood and the societies and individuals working for child betterment, as well as to provide parents, teachers, and others who have the responsibility of the care of children with the results of the scientific study of children. While the Child Conference is yet young in years, it has accomplished much, and is deserving of the support of all who are interested in the welfare of the coming generation.

HOPE FOR OLD CLERKS

MacVeagh May Provide for Dismissed Ones.

CURRENT RUMOR AT TREASURY

Although Secretary Has Issued No Official Order, He Is in Sympathy with Employees and Is Expected to Make Room for Them in Case Congress Does Not Act in Matter.

New hope is expressed for the government clerks who have been on leave since June 1 and who are scheduled for dismissal July 1.

If the retirement plan does not go through at this session of Congress, Secretary MacVeagh will summon them back to work instead of handing them a formal dismissal.

This is the rumor current about the Treasury Department, and though the Secretary has not given any official order to this effect, he intends to make provision for the clerks should Congress fail to act.

Impressed with Pathos.

It is understood by those who know Mr. MacVeagh best that he is in sympathy with the clerks, and while the action taken was done for the benefit of the service and to promote departmental efficiency, he is nevertheless impressed with the pathos that the condition presents.

Just where the Secretary will put the discharged clerks is not known, but they will be tucked about somewhere among the many divisions.

New Hope Looms Up.

With the fiscal year drawing to a close and the day of formal dismissal approaching, the clerks had almost given up hope of being taken care of by the government which they had so faithfully served. But when the rumor spread through the corridors the old clerks took on new hope.

About 20 were dismissed from the office of the Auditor for the Post-office, and all except 40 have been provided for in other departments of the Treasury.

Thieves Steal Shoes.

The loss of several pairs of shoes valued at $25 was reported to the police yesterday by B. Rich & Son, of 1001 F street northwest. A show case on the Tenth street side of the store was broken by thieves and the shoes removed.

H. B. Thaden Laid to Rest.

Henry B. Thaden, who was buried at Arlington on June 7, was for many years a resident of the District of Columbia. He was born in Hanover Province, Dornum, Germany, in the year 1833, and came to this country in 1858. Mr. Thaden was a veteran of the civil war. His sympathy for the Union manifested itself when he left New Orleans and came North to fight under the Stars and Stripes, and to the last he maintained the desire to be buried at Arlington and under the flag of the Union. Mr. Thaden is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marie Thaden, four sons, and many grandchildren.
